BestInfo

Answers to all your questions

RKW ProVent® is the powerful packaging solution with a bright future. Our experienced team will advise you on how to achieve maximum benefit for your individual requirements. Supported by a large pool of references and case studies, we leave no questions unanswered. That is something you can count on.

BestFit

The best specification for your packaging

Any type of packaging is only as good as its underlying specification. A number of factors have to be considered: whether it is precise analysis of the filling material, efficient bag and pallet layout or optimal printing – our extensive experience and reliable planning ensure that your new packaging will be a perfect fit right from day one, thus saving cost and valuable time.

BestStart

Successful commissioning right from the start

RKW ProVent® was developed together with Haver & Boecker, one of the leading plant manufacturers. No company has successfully supported more start-ups of packaging lines in this area than we have. In direct coordination with the equipment supplier, we ensure that your commissioning process will be efficient and that you will have sellable bags right from the start.

BestRun

Top performance through after sales service & innovation

RKW ensures that your packaging has the decisive edge, even in the case of new requirements: no matter if for optimizing packaging processes, solving a packaging problem or developing a customer-specific RKW ProVent® design. We are a reliable partner at your side for each new challenge.

RKW PROVENT® BESTSERVICES

Benefit from a modular service portfolio that fits together seamlessly

BestInfo – Answers to all your questions

- Competent initial consultation
- Provision of bag samples
- Support of presentations to decision-makers
- Cost-benefit analysis
- Initial rough calculation
- Tailor-made quotation

YOU WANT

- a packaging solution that maximizes benefits, not costs
- optimal protection for your product through sustainable packaging
- certainty that you are investing in the right solution

BESTINFO OFFERS

No other company has more experience in self-venting plastic bags than we have. Therefore we know the challenges in almost all industries, and more importantly, we offer the right solution. Our engineers understand that cost savings include factors additional to just the packaging, such as less breakage, reduced loss of filling material or outside storage. We can advise you on all these aspects and provide the answers you need to take a sound decision.

BestFit – The best configuration for your packaging

- Analysis of the filling material
- Bag specification
- Optimized bag and pallet layout
- Key lines, design adaptation, 3D mock-ups
- Digitally printed, manually produced samples for presentations
- Registration of hazardous goods
- Proof of conformity for foodstuffs

YOU WANT

- a bag tailored perfectly to your filling material and fitting optimally on a pallet
- smooth interaction between bag and bagging plant
- a bag with a custom layout designed to reflect the quality of your filling material

BESTFIT OFFERS

RKW is meticulous in its technical design, understanding the pivotal role it plays in determining the fit of your packaging right from day one. We are the only film supplier conducting the necessary analyses of filling material in our own laboratories, using proprietary calculation tools for bag and pallet configuration. All configurations are handled exclusively by experienced engineers, with 3D models and sample bags sent to you in advance as an illustrative product preview of your new bag.

BestStart – Successful commissioning right from the start

- Samples for filling tests at the equipment supplier
- On-site support and analysis of filling tests
- Final pre-testing of all technical parameters with the equipment supplier
- Direct planning and coordination with the project manager and equipment supplier
- Support of the commissioning on site
- Action plan for optimized regular supply

- to produce sellable bags right from the start
- your new packaging line up and running without a hitch
- no issues that have not already been considered beforehand

BESTSTART OFFERS

RKW ProVent® was developed together with Haver & Boecker, one of the leading plant manufacturers. This means we know the bag and the bagging plant inside out. We coordinate directly with the decision-makers and provide on-site support whenever needed. After successful commissioning, the quantities supplied are gradually increased in defined phases to enable the optimization of your production process and potential adjustments.

BestRun – Top performance through after sales service & innovation

- Analysis of filling processes on site
- Consulting services to optimize processes
- Support of design adaptations
- Customized special developments

YOU WANT

- a new packaging design that sets you well apart from the competition
- to incorporate customer requests into your packaging
- to steadily optimize your processes and your packaging solutions

BESTRUN OFFERS

No self-venting FFS bag offers a greater variety of models and more add-ons than the RKW ProVent®. Thanks to our large production capacities and vast experience, we are able to realize special customized developments in the shortest possible time. Our experts can also be on site to optimize your processes for increased output and – on request – conduct comprehensive process analyses. We are committed to providing excellent customer support and have done so now for more than 10 years.
